

PASSENGER STOPS

This list aims to record the names of stopping places (but see note below) on the traditional urban, suburban and interurban steam/electric/petrol tramway systems that once existed in England. The new tramway systems opened in recent years are NOT included, as details are readily available elsewhere. "Tramways" with significant railway features (e.g Mumbles, Wantage, Wisbech & Upwell, Grimsby & Immingham, Alford & Sutton) are included in the Great Britain Various Railways list. See separate lists for Yorkshire, London and Blackpool Tramways. Most Horse Car lines not included.

This list does NOT include details of the following larger tram networks: Liverpool; Manchester (and most connecting systems- Bolton, Bury & Stockport are included); Newcastle; Birmingham & the Black Country and The Potteries.

Unlike tramway systems in most European countries, the traditional systems in Great Britain did not generally issue stop lists. Early Derby and Isle of Thanet tram timetables did include a list of stops for a time. Also, Birmingham and Aberdeen timetables included a street directory with location of nearest stop to each street. Thus, this list generally only includes names of locations shown in the public timetables, fare tables, tickets and street directories.

£ or no symbol: fare stage name in fare tables or on tickets; t: name in public timetables.

+ other (& very likely) main stops (e.g. at railway stations, town halls, loops (L)). #: names from histories; w/d: undated

Former names: [ ]; i.d: stop only in this direction; o.d: stop only in other direction; tm: terminus

For system maps, the various regional Tramways booklets issued by the Light Rail Transit Association are recommended
